"DON'T BE AFRAID TO STAND ALONE"

Jarrold M. Jacobs

Have you ever felt like you were the only one serving God? Perhaps you are the only Christian in your family or at work. You might wonder if God is truly with you in these moments of solitude. Remember, even when we feel alone, God's presence remains. We still need to stand firm (I Cor. 15:58; Rev. 2:10b), trusting that He is with us in every circumstance.

You might find it ironic that I say this, but if you are the only one serving God in your immediate family, at your job, etc., you are not alone! Yet, this is true. God catalogs several who served Him and had to do it alone.

Joseph was one who served God alone. After being sold to Potiphar (Gen. 39), he prospered in the house. However, there came a day when Potiphar's wife lusted after him and tried seducing him "day by day." Thankfully, Joseph would not yield to the temptation (Gen. 39:7-13; I Jn. 2:15-17; I Cor. 6:18). No doubt, he felt alone, but he did not give in to her and refused to sin with her.

Mordecai was another who had to stand alone. When he refused to bow to Haman, the king's servants and others "spake daily" to him about this action (Est. 3:2-4). Yet Mordecai refused to give in, even as he was approached daily to bow to Haman.

As we continue reading about Joseph, we see that things got worse for him after he refused Potiphar's wife. He ended up in prison for the next two years (Gen. 39:20-41:9). Yet, after this, he was eventually promoted to Pharaoh's second-in-command (Gen. 41:39-40). After it was over, Joseph gave God credit for putting him in this position (Gen. 45:5, 7-8, 50:20). He recognized God's providence. Think about what might have happened had Joseph yielded to temptation in Potiphar's house! Perhaps he would not have ended up in the same place!

Similarly, Mordecai suffered for his decision early on. He suffered as he learned about a law going into effect that would see his death and the death of his nation (Est. 3:12-4:1). Yet, God meant to turn this into a blessing. At the end of the book, we see Haman dead and Mordecai serving as second-in-command in Persia (Est. 8:2, 10:3). Just as in Joseph's day, God was able to reverse the fortune of Mordecai.

God still knows how to bless us. When we stand alone for God, we know there will be people who are not happy with that decision (Jn. 15:18-20). Yet, it is the best decision! Have you given in to the crowd? Repent of this and turn back to God! Are you worried that being a Christian means standing alone at times? Worry no more because it does! Even though one might stand alone among men, know God is faithful and will not leave you (Jas. 4:7-8). He will not let you down (Heb. 13:5-6). Learn a lesson from Joseph, Mordecai, and many others in Scripture who knew that following the Lord, even when others do not, is the best decision we can make.
